Most associations like to take time out now and then to observe some phase of their development. Holding a convention is a natural thing to do. In AA, such an event is far more than a routine cause for celebration. A convention also sets up a useful opportunity to share the AA experience in a broader way. It's a common misconception that conventions are regular AA meetings. "There are no dues or fees for AA membership..." says our Seventh Tradition, therefore, some feel there should be no fees to attend an AA related convention. Conventions are special events, not regular AA meetings. A large convention, like March Roundup, requires a substantial amount of planning, preparation, and expense.

March Roundup Conventions are held in hotels and there is a charge for the use of their facilities. Costs include travel and lodging for speakers, coffee, printing, and postage, to name a few.

March Roundup is self-supporting. The costs of the events are paid by registration fees. No baskets are passed. Cost is nominal compared to a weekend's entertainment elsewhere.

Whereas, the March Roundup was started in order to finance our Area Delegates trip to the General Service Conference in New York each year, with the remainder of the funds being submitted to Area 33. These funds allow Area 33 to carry the message to the community. As responsible AA members, we pay our own way.
